Introduction

Local authorities are required to adopt a code of conduct, which sets out rules governing the behaviour of their Members and satisfies the requirements of the Localism Act 2011. All elected, co-opted and independent members of local authorities, including parish councils, are required to abide by their own, formally adopted, code.

The code of conduct seeks to ensure that members observe the highest standards of conduct in their civic role, taking decisions fairly, openly, and transparently. Members have both an individual and collective responsibility to meet these expectations by maintaining high standards and demonstrating good conduct, and by challenging behaviour which falls below expectations.

Pursuant to section 27 of the Localism Act 2011, Corringham Parish Council ('the Council') has adopted this Code of Conduct to promote and maintain high standards of behaviour by its members and co-opted members whenever they conduct the business of the Council, including the business of the office to which they were elected or appointed, or when they claim to act or give the impression of acting as a representative of the Council.

1. Seven Principles of Public Life

This Code of Conduct is based on the Seven Principles of Public Life, also known as the Nolan Principles:

Selflessness - Holders of public office should act solely in terms of the public interest.

Integrity - Holders of public office must avoid placing themselves under any obligation to people or organisations that might try inappropriately to influence them in their work.

They should not act or take decisions in order to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family, or their friends. They must disclose and resolve any interests and relationships.

Objectivity - Holders of public office must act and take decisions impartially, fairly and on merit, using the best evidence and without discrimination or bias.

Accountability - Holders of public office are accountable to the public for their decisions and actions and must submit themselves to the scrutiny necessary to ensure this.

Openness - Holders of public office should act and take decisions in an open and transparent manner. Information should not be withheld from the public unless there are clear and lawful reasons for so doing.

Honesty - Holders of public office should be truthful.

Leadership - Holders of public office should exhibit these principles in their own behaviour. They should actively promote and robustly support the principles and be willing to challenge poor behaviour wherever it occurs.

2. Definitions

For the purposes of this Code, a 'co-opted member' is a person who is not a member of the Council but who is either a member of any committee or sub-committee of the Council, or a member of, and represents the Council on any joint committee or joint sub-committee of the Council, and who is entitled to vote on any question that falls to be decided at any meeting of that committee or sub-committee.

For the purposes of this Code, a 'meeting' is a meeting of the Council, any of its committees, sub-committees, joint committees or joint sub-committees.

For the purposes of this Code, and unless otherwise expressed, a reference to a member of the Council includes a co-opted member of the Council.

3. Application of the Code of Conduct

Corringham Parish Council has adopted this Members Code of Conduct and each Member has signed an undertaking to act in accordance with this code of conduct. This Code of Conduct will be reviewed annually to ensure its fitness for purpose.

This Code of Conduct applies to each councillor as soon as the councillor signs the declaration of acceptance of the office of councillor or attends their first meeting as a co-opted member. It continues to apply to each councillor until they cease to be a councillor.

The Code of Conduct also applies to the Clerk to The Council and any other individual who is working on behalf of The Council who may be attending or reporting to The Council at meetings.

This Code of Conduct applies to each and every member when:

- acting in their capacity as a councillor and/or as a representative of the council
- claiming to act as a councillor and/or as a representative of the council
- giving the impression of acting as a councillor and/or as a representative of the council
- referring publicly to their role as a councillor or using knowledge that could only be obtained in their role as a councillor.
